RETURNS FROM REPUBLICAN DIS-TRICT HAUNT ADMIN-ISTRATION.

DREADS THE NEXT HOUSE

Is Afraid a Hard Wrestle Is Coming

Fall.

Washington, April 20.—Chastened and meek Republican members of congress were the only kind to be seen in Washington today as a result of the disasters that have struck their party, culminating in the victory yesterday of James C. Havens in the Rochester (N. Y.) district. Few of the republicans attempted to deny that all signs point to a democratic house next year, while the intimation from the White House is that the president is so thoroughly disheartened over the criticism, uttered and implied, of his administration that he intimated to friends today that he welcomed the idea of Theodore Roosevelt taking the presidential task off his hands in 1912.

Never Again, Says Taft.

He continues to tell his friends that one term is enough for him, as the people are repudiating his party continually and as the tariff bill seems to be unpopular and troubles are piling up. Several members of congress and some of his unofficial friends said today that he has told them as much. They revived the old story that the ambition of Mr. Taft's life has always been centered on the supreme court of the United States. Since he began to form a purpose, they say, that purpose was to end his career as chief justice of the highest court.

Believes in Roosevelt.

It is said the president welcomes the suggestion that Theodore Roosevelt wants to begin a third term in 1912. So far as Mr. Taft is concerned, the report is, he is convinced that he can not win again, nor does he want to try, while he believes that Mr. Roosevelt will be triumphantly re-elected. He has inquired about the public attitude upon the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill and the replies are so discouraging to him that he is sure he can not please the American public.

Taft Loses Nerve.

The president is a sensitive man and the criticism to which he, like every other president, has been subjected has destroyed his nerve. It has convinced him, say his friends, that he may not be the sort of man to undertake his present position. In recent speeches the president has shaken his head sadly when a second term was mentioned. He has told his hearers that three more years will about do him.

Sighs Over Blunders.

The callers at the White House the president is said always to review the blunders of his administration and the charges against its members. He has said that "everything is breaking against him." They say that he approves of all that secretary of the interior Ballinger has done and that to find Ballinger denounced by the entire public mystifies him.

Wonders at Rude People.

The recent criticism concerning the connection of Attorney General Geo. W. Wickersham and the sugar trust have made the president wonder, say his friends. He does not understand why all his bills do not pass; he can not fathom the good purpose of the progressive movement in his own party, and the President himself has repeatedly said that Speaker Cannon and Senator Aldrich are his ideals of public men. When Aldrich and Hale of Maine made known to the president their determination to retire he stated that the country was losing the services of patriots.

Dreads the Democrats.

To fill his cup of woe the recent democratic victories at special elections have made him certain that he will have a democratic house to wrestle with next year, and his friends assert that he dreads the

The clothes do it; all we have to do is to get them tried on. Men are sometimes a little stubborn about that, but once they get into the clothes, that settles it. They're the best, the most economical the most stylish, and about the only clothes that you know are all wool.

We like to get the other fellow, too, who thinks these clothes are too high priced; he's easy, if he once gets started; the economy is too apparent.

Announces for Governor

ISSUES A CHALLENGE TO ALL OTHER CANDIDATES—YOU KNOW EXACTLY WHERE HE STANDS.

To the Public, the Democratic Candidates for Governor, and to Col.
L. P. Ross in Particular:

I hereby declare myself a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor of Oklahoma and challenge you, Col. Ross, and all other candidates to joint discussions on the stump in 76 counties of the state.
My dear Col. Ross, the reason I direct this challenge to you in particular is because you are making a bitter fight on prohibition. You are asking for resubmission and open saloons. As yet none of the candidates have had the nerve and backbone to call you to halt. In fact, they seem to try to ride both horses.
I am unalterably opposed to resub-
mission, and hold that we are honor bound to keep good faith with the terms of the enabling act and keep whiskey out of the state for 21 years. I am in favor of state-wide national-wide and world-wide prohibition and if elected governor will do all in my power to have our constitution and laws so remedied that a bootlegger, gambling house proprietor, guntotter, white slave trafficker, and the bribe giver and bribe taker, will, upon conviction, have to serve at least two years in the pen.
Such a law as this I think would make the state clean.

Kindly let me know, at once if you will debate this and other issues
and our managers will meet and arrange the itinerary. I am also asking the other candidates to be on hand and protect their interests.

Among other things I will advocate standing by the constitution and the democratic platform, and secure good amendments as speedily as possible—taxation for all alike, economy
in the expenditure of public funds,
funds to be deposited in home banks
at the best possible interest rate. I favor the state bank guaranty law.

TWO HUNDRED AND TWENTY BUSHELS OF CORN TO ACRE

In answer to an inquiry as to how one man raised 226 bushels of corn
to the acre, the grower, J. F. Batts
of Garner, N. C., says:

In reply to your request that I write a letter about how I produced 226 2-3 bushels of shelled corn on one acre, I will say in the first place that I planted the acre and had
the corn gathered under the rules and regulations of a contest conducted under the auspices of the North Carolina department of agriculture.
The official report is, therefore, on file; and with the affidavits of disinterested witnesses, proving the actual measure of 226 2-3 bushels to the acre. I can tell the story in a few words. I prepared the land and prepared the seed, and resolved to make as much corn on one acre as hard work and close study would produce.

My land was not extraordinary land in any respect. Eight years ago this acre which this year produced 226 2-3 bushels produced only five bushels.
Last year it produced only eight bushels of wheat. Of course, when I made up my mind to enter for the Wake county and State of North Carolina corn prizes for this year, I felt that I was handicapped so far as my land
was concerned, and I had to use a great deal of manure and fertilizer.

But I attributed my success to seed selected and seed development more than to any one thing. I had only one year in which to prepare my land for the contest, but fortunately I had been working at seed improvement seven years, and I had the advantage of an extraordinary prolific seed. How I brought this about may interest your readers.

Seven years ago I decided that hard work ought to be supplemented with prolific seed, if I would get the most of my labors. And so I set aside a spot (less than half an acre)
in which year by year I had bred corn to the prolific type. My aim has been to produce a handy size of ear
and four ears to the stalk, and each ear well filled out. I have produced many stalks having from five to ten ears, but I have kept steadily to my object of producing four good,
well shaped and well filled ears to the stalk. I planted the acre to this seed, selecting the best, and while
I would have made a good yield with ordinary seed, I believe that my six years' work on seed improvement
accounts for the very great success
of my yield over that of others in inheritance tax, an election law that will disfranchise the ignorant negro and the ignorant white, educational advancement, compulsory education at least five months in the year up to the age of 14 years, county and township high schools, and liberal aid for our state schools; enlarge the power and authority of the attorney general, encourage labor and legitimate capital, invite capital to the state and protect it, encourage factories and industries by non-taxation, encourage railroad building and thereby enhance the value of the farmers' land, build macadam roads and good bridges in every county that farm lands may double in value and town and country people may be brought closer together and the opportunity for the demagogue abated; state maintenance of the confederate home. Have more elective and fewer appointed officials and thereby destroy machine power; encourage patronage of home industries, and force foreign insurance companies to invest three-fourths of the premiums in the state they collect from the state; good usury laws, stand for state rights and use all influence possible to get congress to curtail the powers of minor federal judges to the end that our rate laws and 2-cent fare may not be wiped out by one stroke of the pen in the hand of a foreign judge who knows less of our affairs than we do ourselves; appoint honest and fearless men to office, put down the craze for woman suffrage in time, oppose change of article 9 of the constitution in favor of the railroads, oppose the state going into the coal mining business, let the people run the government and not the government run the people, dethrone trusts and enthrone the people, and our state will soon be great, imperial Oklahoma, the admiration of the world.

BRANT KIRK.

the outset—my highest competitor
having produced less than 160 bushels and he had better land, I think,
than mine to begin with. This is to say I think, other things being equal

YOUNG'S RESIGNATION SIDETRACKS SUIT

Tribunal Advises Attorney General
He May Petition for Order
Against Successor.

Guthrie, Ok., April 20.—For the reason that no practical results could be obtained, the supreme court today denied the application of State Examiner and Inspector Taylor for writ of mandamus against State Bank Commissioner Young, to permit him
to examine affairs of the states banking board and disbursement of the state guaranty fund. The suit was filed in the Supreme Court by the Attorney General yesterday.

In the court's order today, it was shown that Commissioner Young had tendered his resignation, effective
May 1, and that he would be out of office before hearing could be had
and the controversy determined.
When Young leaves the office a new commissioner takes charge, and any order of the court would not obtain against the new appointee. The court's order states that Taylor will be permitted to renew his application at such time as it may appear that the issuance of a writ of mandamus will not necessarily be abated.
It is understood that procedure will be followed.

The mandamus was the outgrowth
of several demands made by State Examiner and Inspector Taylor upon Commissioner Young to allow an inspection of such matters as held by
that office having to do with the recent bank closings, and to check disbursements of the funds. Refusal was made upon the theory that the guaranty fund was only held by the state in trust.

It is understood that Gov. Haskell has appointed as Mr. Young's successor E. B. Cockrell, president of the Bank of Hydro and of the Farmers and Merchants' Bank of Hennessey, and that formal transfer of the office will be made May 1.

That election in New York state
yesterday is enough to inspire a hur-

COL. GEO. THOMPSON CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

The News desires to make some
references to Col. George Thompson in connection with his candidacy for sheriff of Pontotoc county.

While the personality of Colonel
Thompson has been strongly impressed on the political and other substantial affairs of the county in a manner and to an extent which makes references to him in the interest of his candidacy, more or less superfluous, still it is a pleasure to remind the voters of the county that
in their consideration of the best man for sheriff, it is proper to be regardful of Colonel Thompson's work as a private citizen for the public good and as County Democratic chairman for the good of the party.

There is reproduced hereunder the write-up by Hon. Byron Norrell in reference to Colonel Thompson's can-

GEORGE THOMPSON CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF (From Ada Democrat)

Few men are now before the voters of the Democratic party who are better known than George Thompson.
He has held no office, but his work in favor of strict law enforcement and in the interest of the democratic party, has won him recognition. He was one of the prime movers in the quiet little campaign last summer,
that resulted in closing up the blind tigers of the town, and no one worked more zealously to apprehend the murderer of Gus Bobbitt after the assassin seemed likely to escape.

Three years ago, when it was seen that the two factions of the democratic party that had existed here for some time, must, of necessity, get together. Mr. Thompson was selected as the man capable of bringing about harmony, and as county chairman succeeded perfectly in wiping out all the petty differences. It was the pleasure of the writer to be associated with Mr. Thompson three years ago on the campaign committee that directed the fight in this county for the constitution and statehood. He was a hard worker, and spared neither himself nor personal expense to make a success of the undertaking. What the result was we all know. At times when a speaker could not be found to go to a place where work was needed, Mr. Thompson would go himself, and he never failed to make good.

He will have little to learn about
the conduct of his office, if elected, for he served as deputy sheriff in Grayson county, Texas, where he grew to manhood, and being raised in the midst of a new country, learned those lessons of self-reliance and personal courage needed in a man

CORPORATION COMMISSION.

Hearings Had at Guthrie on Excess
Exit Rule.

Guthrie, Ok., April 19.—Hearings
were held by the corporation Commission upon its proposed orders revoking the excess fare order of one year ago, revising the excess baggage rate and requiring that all exits to passenger trains be kept open when stopping at towns in excess of 3,000 population.

The excess fare order permits the railroad companies to charge a penalty in excess of the tariff cost of tickets when payment is made in cash on the train. This order was granted while the passenger fare in Oklahoma was 2c per mile, but at the 3c rate it was shown the penalty would increase the rate to between 4c and 5c per mile.

The railroad companies offered evidence of F. B. Griffin and E. F.
Connelly, Santa Fe passenger conductors running between Newton, Kan., and Purcell, Ok. Prior to the order going into effect cash fare collections on train averaged between $50 and $75 a trip, but now, even with the penalty in force, it is only between $5 and $10 showing that passengers had been buying tickets
to save the excess.

Home Cure for Eczema.

Does it not seem strange that so many people suffer year in and year out with eczema?

A 25-cent bottle of a simple wash stops the itch and will surely convince any patient.

This wash is composed of mild
and soothing oil of wintergreen mixed with thymol and glycerine, etc.,
and known as D. D. D. Prescription.
We do not know how long the D. D. D.
Laboratories will continue the 25c offer, as the remedy is regularly sold only in $1.00 bottles and has never before been put on the market on any special offers.

If you want relief tonight try a bottle at 25c on our personal recommendation.

State Election Question.

Guthrie, Ok., April 20.—Under the primary election law candidates for office and to be voted on for a greater area than one county are required to file with the state election board applications for places on the primary election ticket. Secretary Linn of the State Election Board has opened an office and announced that the first filing date would be Monday, April 25. The law does not provide in what order the names shall appear on the tickets, and while last year they were arranged alphabetically this year it will probably be in the order they are received by the board.

Gov. Haskell has not appointed a successor to F. E. Gillette, republican member of the State Election Board, resigned, and states he will not make
a selection from the lists submitted by Chairman Harris of the Republican State committee. All on the Harris list in Guthrie.

Bargains For You.

Look down the list and figure out what pleases you most. This will catch you:

1. Home—200 feet front in front of the South school campus. A bargain.
2. A five room cottage on 100 feet in few doors of First M. E. church.
Awfully cheap.
3. An elegant 6 room modern home on 100 feet. Corner West 16th.
4. Splendid 5 room house and 100 feet on corner on South Townsend.
Dirt cheap.
5. A brand new plastered 5 room cottage on South 17th.
6. Five room house and 100 feet on corner in Sunrise.

Business Stuff.

1. A 22 room hotel on two 25-feet lots.
2. A pair of dandies on corner
Main street.
3. A well located house and business lot on 12th.
4. Three business lots on West Main.

6. Business house and lot on Broadway between Main and 12th.

Two business lots on East Main

READY FOR BUSINESS.

Ada Coca-Cola Bottling Company a Busy Place.

The Ada Coca-Cola Bottling Company, a new industry for this city, begun operation Tuesday and with its splendid modern equipment, will be able to supply this and surrounding territory with soft drinks, such as coca-cola, soda water and ginger ale. The plant has a capacity of 14,000 bottles daily, which will doubtless prove of sufficient size for the present. It is the intention of the company to make nothing but the best in their line, using pure sugar and the best extracts obtainable, together with pure water.

Pending the adjustment of the machinery, which is new and of modern style, no shipments will be made and by the first of the month they will be ready to take care of all the business within a radius of fifty miles of this city.

The public is cordially invited to call and inspect the plant. They will find Mr. W. A. Riley, the manager, a most pleasant gentleman, who will take pleasure in showing them through.

Prominent Adaites

Honorable W. H. Ebey and Judge C. A. Galbraith left this morning for Oklahoma City where they will participate in the "Eighty-niners" celebration. It is especially fitting that these gentlemen should attend and participate in the celebration of the 21st birthday of Old Oklahoma Territory for they were not only among the prominent ones who engaged in the great run, but were among those very few who planted their tents on the lots near the Lee-Huckins hotel which is now nearly the center of the metropolis' business district.

The presence of Judge Galbraith and Mr. Ebey at this April 1st Fiesta would be essential to the satisfaction of the spirit of the old timers and eighty-niners that the notable occasion had commanded the presence of its more distinguished representatives.

These two Ada citizens were leaders after the big run, in both territorial democratic party leadership and territory governmental conduct, Judge Galbraith being at the head of the Territorial party organization and attorney general and Mr. Ebey being federal territorial supreme court clerk. Each resigned his federal job after Mr. Bryan's first defeat.

A PLEASANT AFTERNOON WITH MRS. CHENEY HOSTESS

The tea given by the Home Mission society at the home of Mrs. W. K. Cheney Wednesday afternoon was in every way a most enjoyable occasion.

About fifty ladies called during the hours and a pleasant, social chat was engaged in. A nice salad course was served, with tea and coffee. The society appreciated the liberal offering made by the guests.

Mrs. Cheney was a gracious hostess and made every one glad to be entertained in her home.

MORE FROM SNYDER.

This Optimistic Yankee Believes in Ada—Do You?

Petersburg, Ind., April 13, 1910.—Pontotoc County Abstract Co., Ada, Okla. Gentlemen: I received your letter advising me of your new organization and I note the names of those who are stockholders, among whom are a number of my personal warm friends and I have full confidence in their honesty and business ability, for I know them to be progressive, straight-forward business men, who have been in Ada ever since the days of her infancy and have struggled through the uncertain period of her early development and helped to make Ada what she is today, a thriving, prosperous little city.

Upon my first visit to your town five years ago I realized the citizens of Ada were laying the foundation to build a city, for I could foresee that her citizens had linked and waxed themselves together and formed what seemed to be an endless chain of strength, all pulling together for Ada's future greatness, and when I had made my second visit to your town I caught the fever myself and joined the union and have been talking Ada and helping to advertise the fact that Ada is going to develop into one of the biggest little cities for many miles around in the state of Oklahoma. Cities do not grow by chance—while it is true, by virtue of locations they naturally grow, but in the greater majority of cases towns must be blessed as Ada is with a band of hustlers who are constantly offering opportunities to outsiders to come in and grow up with the city and become a part of it, and this is the message your citizens are continually sending out to others.

Another very important feature your citizens have developed for their future welfare which will add largely to the growth of your city is your school system. The educational opportunities now afforded in Ada to the present and coming generation is something to be proud of and ought to build a city twice the size of Ada within itself.

Will probably be in the city some time in the near future when I will be pleased to call. Yours truly

H. R. SNYDER.

COMPLIMENT TO MISS ADDIE TANNER

Ada Young Lady of Sweet 16, One of the Successful Contestants in Popularity Contest.

Miss Addie Tanner of Ada, through the Oklahoma City late popularity subscription contest, secured one of the important prizes, being a trip to Colorado with expenses advanced. Miss Addie richly deserves the reward for she probably remitted around a thousand dollars on subscriptions to the Oklahoma City paper during the period of the contest. The fact that such a very young and modest lady should succeed in accomplishing such results reflects very creditably on her in many respects. Miss Addie is the daughter of Captain A. D. Tanner a prominent citizen of Pontotoc county.

(From F. & F.)

And, Lord, increase and intensify the tendency of the republican leaders to make fools of themselves this year.

Mr. Armour says meat will come down in about three years. That will be after the money of the consumers is all gone, however.

Aunt Carry Nation contemplates a season in Newport next summer. Well, Newport is one place we should like to see Aunt Carry visit.

We admit that we are considering the advisability of reading General Castelman of Kentucky out of the party for giving three gallons of thirty-year-old Kentucky hickory to a republican.

A Connecticut man has invented a fishing pole that weighs the fish which get away. Nobody will buy that kind of pole, as it is altogether more satisfactory to guess at the weight of escaped fish.

A Texan was fined $10 in New York for hugging two women at the same time and one newspaper has called him a hog. The fine shows that he was not a Texas-hog, the quotations for which are $10.75 to $11.50.

If the president wants to do something to regain popularity he might appoint a democrat to succeed the late Justice Brewer. We know of several good democratic lawyers who would like to have the office.

We really dislike to prophesy, but in order to amaze a certain class of people we positively announce that T. R. is not going to proceed to the White House as soon as he lands and boot Mr. Taft out of the office.

We warn every Texas democrat to be on his mettle this year. It would be indeed humiliating if Massachusetts, Pennsylvania or New York should come to the front in November with a bigger democratic majority than ours.

The opium evil has attacked the magazine specialists now sojourning in China. One of them writes that China is training an army of 22,000,000 men. A few more pipes and that man will be handling figgers like a Kansas populist does.

About the first serious act of coin separation Texas will practice on the ultimate consumer this year will be next month when we unload 1500 carloads of onions on him. And we intend to make him weep and squeal at the same time.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer says: "A democratic congress next time is by no means an impossibility." Our contemporary is full of prunes. A democratic congress next time is a copper-riveted, steel-braced, hog-chained, laminated and sublimated cinch.

The man who was arrested in Cleveland because of his connection with an anarchist plot to assassinate Ballinger, was properly incarcerated in the lunatic asylum. This fellow ought to be given a dip net and permitted to fish for minnows in the basin of the fountain all day.

An aged bootlegger was released in Seattle because his army discharge showed that he was one of the men who captured Jefferson Davis at the end of the war. So far, 7000 of the two men who captured Mr. Davis have died, leaving only about 197,669 yet living and on the pension rolls.

VICTORY FOR DEMOCRATS BEING FORECASTED

Carter H. Harrison and Roger C. Sullivan Predict Party Will Sweep Country.

Chicago, Ill., April 20.—Carter H. Harrison and other democratic party leaders see a democratic sweep in prospect at the fall elections today, following the landslide yesterday in the Rochester (N. Y.) congressional district when the democratic nomination won in a rock-ribbed republican section by a plurality of about 5,000 votes. Roger C. Sullivan, democratic county organization, were of the same mind as Mr. Harrison in analyzing the result.

DECISION GOES TO HARRY BREWER

Tommy Elks Slugs Billy Gragg When Honors Go Against His Man.

Harry Brewer of Kansas City was given the decision over Kid Ferns of Oklahoma City at the close of a fifteen round battle at the Auditorium last night. When Referee Gragg raised Brewer's hand as a sign that he was given the decision, Tommy Elks, Ferns' manager and chief adviser, leaped through the ropes, struck Gragg on the cheek with his right fist and sent him staggering. Gragg's cheek was cut by the blow. The crowd supported Gragg and his decision as Brewer had outgeneraled and out-pointed his opponent through out. Elks was arrested and released on bond. Several other disputes started throughout the packed house, but officers prevented any serious trouble.

An hour before time for the card to begin, people began to come in crowds, and by 8 o'clock a string over a half block extended from the door, besides the multitude that gathered in groups. Four thousand people saw the go.

Brewer was first to enter the ring, being received with loud cheering. In his corner was Walter Bates, his manager, and Bates was the only second for the Kansas City lad. A few minutes later Ferns appeared and was given a similar ovation. The crowd was keyed up to a high pitch and as the contestants stripped from their robes and prepared to begin a constant handclapping and shouting was kept up.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

FOR HIGH COTTON ADVOCATED.

Senator Smith Takes Shot at Wick-ersham.

Washington, April 20.—Senator Smith of South Carolina, referring to the indictment of cotton speculators in New York, said in the senate today that the Attorney General had been made the victim of a plot with the end in view of depressing the price of cotton in the interest of the foreign markets.

Position of Bears.

He said the bears had sold the cotton at a lower price than cotton was bringing in the South. They would have to go to the planters to get the cotton and they would find they could not get it there because the farmers were looking after their own interests.

Contending that every American citizen was interested in the price of cotton because so much of it was exported, Mr. Smith asserted that the Attorney General was not dealing fairly in taking any steps that would play into the hands of those who would depress the price. He objected to cotton, the chief commodity of a section which is politically unfriendly to the administration, being selected for the prosecution.

"Instead of investigating those who are trying to put up prices why in the name of God don't you investigate the foreign bear?" demanded Mr. Smith. He admitted he had assisted in organizing the farmers of the South for their own protection.

Aldrich Defends Tariff.

In a brief discussion with Mr. Smith, Senator Aldrich said he believed the tariff had done more than any other cause to increase prosperity. Mr. Smith sought to construe this into an admission that the tariff was responsible for high prices, but Mr. Aldrich would not admit so much. The question was under discussion for two hours, but was not acted upon.

Saved From the Grave.

"I had about given up hope, after nearly four years of suffering from a severe lung trouble," writes Mrs. M. L. Dix, of Clarksville, Tenn. "Often the pain in my chest would be almost unbearable and I could not do any work, but Dr. King's New Discovery has made me feel like a new person. Its best medicine made for the throat and lungs." Obsolete coughs, stubborn colds, hay fever, la grippe, asthma, croup, bronchitis and hemorrhages, hoarseness and whooping cough, yield quickly to this wonderful medicine. Try it. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free. Guaranteed by Ramsey Drug Co.

The Idiocy of Man

"H'm!" said Aunt Amelia as she turned with unnecessary fervor the heel of the stocking she was knitting. The good-looking matronly woman who was watering the Boston fern turned quickly. "Now, Aunt Amelia," she exclaimed, "what have I done that's wrong? You used to make exactly that same disapproving noise when I was ten years old and stole cookies. I was merely telling Rosamund things for her own good. She's a pretty girl if she is my own daughter and I want her to be popular and worthy to be liked."

"H'm!" said Aunt Amelia again. She poked a knitting needle reflectively through the lace at her wrist. "I don't know," she admitted, "that you said anything wrong. You were advising Rosie to be self-sacrificing and thoughtful of others and to get up early mornings so she could accomplish more. That's exactly what the proper sort of mother is expected to say. Still, if Rosie follows your advice she'll be left at the post, all right."

"Why, Aunt Amelia!" cried the matronly woman, sitting down in surprise at her relative's levity.

"I think I've picked up a bit of slang since the boys down home went to college," Aunt Amelia explained, with an air of pride. "I've kept up with the times since you were married, Anastasia! And you notice lots of things as you grow older."

"I was just thinking," went on Aunt Amelia, "about two girls down at home and wondering why every human man is an exception to the rule. You give any man the sort of girl he ought to like and he backs away and loses his head over the other kind and then expects you to congratulate him on having succeeded in making his whole life miserable."

"There were the Green girls, Emma and Bessie, and when you married and went away they were making mud pies. Well, when they grew up if ever there was a selfish bit of humanity it was Bessie Green. She was not indolent, she was just plain, downright lazy. People didn't think much about her faults, though, because her eyes had a trick of sparkling through her lashes at you and she was always ready for any good time that was going."

"Emma was just as pretty as Bessie, but she was quiet and she didn't look at you through her eyelashes. She had great gray eyes as open and clear as lakes and a fashion of seeing down to the bottom of your mind where you had tucked away the disagreeable part of yourself and thought it hidden. Not that Emma was a prig—she was just an exceptionally lovely, sweet-minded girl."

"Their mother was delicate and Emma used to get up early and see that breakfast was right for father and the boys. Usually Bessie had her breakfast sent upstairs. She said that since Emma was up for breakfast there really was no sense in her getting up, too. Emma knew how to cook and Bessie frankly said she loathed the kitchen and all concerned with it and would rather live on toast and tea than burn her face and hands and get a headache."

"Emma made herself the prettiest sort of dresses and blouses and Bessie got hers ready-made or hired a dressmaker. She said she didn't know how to sew and wasn't ever going to learn. "In short, Emma spent her time doing things for other people because she was naturally so generous and sweet she couldn't help it. She had all the virtues of a model woman besides plenty of good looks, and she was properly modest and retiring. When they went out anywhere there might be an older man or so who would hunt out Emma because they had sufficient brains to appreciate her, but you ought to have seen the young circle about Bessie."

"Well, after Bessie had driven two men to drink and two others had quarreled about her and several more had had the blues for months she got engaged to the cashier in a bank just because Emma liked him. Oh, no, she didn't marry him—she coolly threw him over when a rich man came along. She promptly married the rich man."

"You ought to see her house! She won't bother her head over it, because she says there are servants to do that. Her husband never got a decent meal at home and nothing in the place is ever put away where it belongs. Her husband sews on his own buttons and carries up her breakfast to her before he leaves in the morning. If she sheds tears about anything he buys her diamonds, and if she sulks he lets her go to Europe. "Emma? She married the bank cashier finally and they are ordinarily happy. You see, like all men who marry good wives, he takes his perfectly run home as a matter of course. Sometimes when he meets Bessie she looks at him through her eyelashes in the old way and his heart thumps."

The good-looking matronly woman stared out of the window. "I'd better send Rosamund to a beauty shop for cultivation and tell her to stop thinking about anybody but herself, if she is to be happy in future—is that what you mean?" she asked with a little sigh.

"I believe you might as well," replied Aunt Amelia, "the world being so perfectly idiotic in these present times."

IT MADE A DIFFERENCE

The young woman in the pretty gown and displaying the becoming style of coiffure surveyed with some perplexity the young man who supposedly called on her because he wanted to gaze into her eyes and listen to her well-modulated voice. He was doing neither, however.

Ever since his arrival he had been burrowing in a heap of back numbers of a magazine popularly deemed attractive only to feminine intellects. "For goodness' sake, Albert," she broke forth at last, "what on earth causes you to be so fascinated by those magazines? What's the trouble?"

"I was just looking at the pictures," explained the young man, earnestly. "They print such splendid views of houses sometimes. I was hunting them up."

"Houses!" cried the young woman. "I didn't know you were interested in architecture!"

"Oh," said the young man, "I'm not—just as architecture. But I was trying to see if any one had any really clever ideas, you know, as to plans. Sometimes another fellow will come out with exactly the thing you have in mind and can't just figure out yourself."

"But why are you so interested in houses?" demanded the young woman, a little bored.

"Well, you see," said the young man, "I've had a lot for a good long time out in a suburb and I rather thought maybe I'd put up a house on it. You can always—er—rent a house, you know. It seems to me like a good way to invest money. Doesn't it to you?"

"Why, I suppose so," said the young woman, disinterestedly. "I don't know much about those things when you come right down to it—investments, I mean."

"Well, you'd know about a house, wouldn't you?" asked the young man, anxiously. "Whether it was right—and all that—things a man would never think about. You see, if I put one up I don't want it to be a failure. You could sort of advise me, couldn't you?"

The young woman wrinkled her brow delicately and strove to appear polite. It was difficult because she was a little resentful that he had not noticed the gown she had put on especially for his benefit.

"Those things always make my head ache," protested the young woman. "Like railway timetables and propositions in geometry, I can't make any sense out of them! Why don't you buy bonds or stocks or something like that? Then you won't have to bother. Isn't there always an awful lot of trouble about owning houses?"

"Oh, I don't know," said the young man, a trifle gloomily. "I'd rather build a house than buy bonds. I—er—oh, I can make a lot more out of it! This seems to be a nice house—look here!"

"Ye-e-s," said the young woman after glancing at the plan. "But isn't it awfully small? Only six rooms!"

"That isn't so terribly little!" protested the young man. "There's lots more room in a six-room house than a six-room flat, for example. Still, I don't like that hall. I like a good-sized hall that looks inviting when you come in—don't you?"

"Mercy! I don't know!" cried the young woman. "Please talk to me and put down those old magazines!"

The young man discarded the literature. "There's nothing in them anyhow," he said. "That is, nothing I like any better than my own plan. You see, I've been sort of figuring it out in odd moments and have drawn up one of my own." He drew a carefully folded paper from his pocket and spread it out on the table. "It's like this—can't you take this chair where I can explain it to you?"

The young woman came over to the table with the air of a polite martyr. "Oh, yes," she said after a little scrutiny, "that's very nice, I'm sure. Yes, I'd build it if I were you. I didn't know you had a lot."

"You don't seem interested in my house," said the young man in an injured tone.

"Why, yes, I am," declared the young woman, wandering away to the other side of the room.

"I had kind of hoped you would be," went on the young man slowly, fingering his pencil nervously, "because—well, you see, Adele, I've been hoping for so long now, that some time—when I asked you—you'd say yes—and the little house was to be—ours, you know!"

There was a little rush and the young woman stood beside him. "Why—I didn't know—I didn't understand—give me those plans! Why, it's a perfectly beautiful house!"

Punch.

A novelty for whist or social parties where a beverage is served: Strip, wash and bruise with potato masher enough mint to lightly fill a quart bowl. Cover with boiling water and steep, like any tea, for 10 minutes. Strain well and chill on ice. When cold add a cup of grape juice and one of raspberry or strawberry. Canned fruit may be used. Barbary juice is good, but not so easily obtained. Make a syrup of white sugar and water, boiled for 10 minutes, and sweeten with this to suit taste. Do not use raw sugar. If no fruit can be obtained or for any reason is not preferred, use lemon or orange or pineapple juice. Any way the punch looks nicer if a few slices of lemon float around in it. Add also a few sprigs of mint. The flavor is not pronounced and is agreeable.

Frosting the Cake.

For a delicious white frosting for a cake take one cup of granulated sugar, four tablespoons of cold water, and one tablespoon of vinegar. Boil for about five minutes, or until it forms a thread when dropped from a spoon. Have ready the whites of two or three eggs whipped to a stiff froth. Add the sugar syrup to the whites of eggs and beat vigorously until it is light and creamy.

Spread thickly on the cake and set aside to harden. It is not necessary to put in the oven to harden.

A Jelly for Invalids.

Has it ever occurred to you to jelly fruits in the smallest possible glasses for the invalid friend? Glasses may be had which will hold but a quarter of the jelly usually put into the ordinary tumbler size.

While you may not want to carry to your friend just one of these tiny playthings, the variety that you could take in four of the little glasses would be novel and so much more acceptable to the delicate appetite than a quantity of one kind.

Cranberry Sherbet.

Instead of cranberry sauce or jelly try a cranberry sherbet with the roast. A pint of water and a pound of sugar to each pint of juice should be frozen in the usual manner; when partly done stir in the whipped white of one egg for each pint of juice, finish freezing, then add a cup of chopped crystallized fruit softened by previous soaking, repack the freezer and let stand for an hour to ripen.

Honeycomb Pudding.

Beat two eggs, add one-half cup sugar, one-half cup molasses, one-half cup milk in which dissolve one-half teaspoon soda, one-half cup flour. Pour into pudding dish and bake in moderate oven 45 minutes.

Sauce: One cup sugar, one cup boiling water, butter size small egg, salt, one tablespoon flour dissolved in three tablespoons cold water, one-half teaspoon lemon extract.

Clean rags wanted at News office.

RETURNS FROM REPUBLICAN DIS-TRICT HAUNT ADMIN-ISTRATION.

DREADS THE NEXT HOUSE

Fall.

Washington, April 20.—Chastened and meek Republican members of congress were the only kind to be seen in Washington today as a result of the disasters that have struck their party, culminating in the victory yesterday of James C. Havens in the Rochester (N. Y.) district. Few of the republicans attempted to deny that all signs point to a democratic house next year, while the intimation from the White House is that the president is so thoroughly disheartened over the criticism, uttered and implied, of his administration that he has welcomed the idea of Theodore Roosevelt taking the presidential task off his hands in 1912.

Never Again, Says Taft.

He continues to tell his friends that one term is enough for him as the people are repudiating his party continually and as the tariff bill seems to be unpopular and troubles are piling up. Several members of congress and some of his unofficial friends said today that he has told them as much. They revived the old story that the ambition of Mr. Taft's life has always been centered on the supreme court of the United States. Since he began to form a purpose they say, that purpose was to end his career as chief justice of the highest court.

Believes in Roosevelt.

It is said the president welcomes the suggestion that Theodore Roosevelt wants to begin a third term in 1912. So far as Mr. Taft is concerned, the report is he is convinced that he can not win again, nor does he want to try, while he believes that Mr. Roosevelt will be triumphantly re-elected. He has inquired about the public attitude upon the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill and the replies are so discouraging to him that he is sure he can not please the American public.

Taft Loses Nerve.

The president is a sensitive man and the criticism to which he, like every other president has been subjected has destroyed his nerve. It has convinced him, say his friends, that he may not be the sort of man to undertake his present position. In recent speeches the president has shaken his head sadly when a second term was mentioned. He has told his hearers that three more years will about do him.

Sighs Over Blunders.

The callers at the White House the president is said always to review the blunders of his administration and the charges against its members. He has said that everything is breaking against him. They say that he approves of all that secretary of the interior Ballinger has done and that to find Ballinger denounced by the entire public mystifies him.

Wonders at Rude People.

The recent criticism concerning the connection of Attorney General Geo. W. Wickersham and the sugar trust have made the president wonder say his friends. He does not understand why all his bills do not pass. He can not fathom the good purpose of the progressive movement in his own party, and the President himself has repeatedly said that Speaker Cannon and Senator Aldrich are his ideals of public men. When Aldrich and Hale of Maine made known to the president their determination to retire he stated that the country was losing the services of patriots.

Dreads the Democrats.

To fill his cup of woe the recent democratic victories at special elections have made him certain that he will have a democratic house to wrestle with next year, and his friends assert that he dreads the

are better than any he gets made to measure; better for him, economy for him, better style, better quality. We're convincing a lot of just such skeptics right along. The clothes do it, all we have to do is to get them tried on. Men are sometimes a little stubborn about that, but once they get into the clothes, that settles it. They're the best, the most economical the most stylish, and about the only clothes that you know are all wool.

trouble that will cause him

Within the democratic circles the Rochester victory has caused great emotion and hopes for still greater accomplishments. The republican floor leader in the house representative, Sereno E. Payne speaks for the district next to Rochester. Mr. Payne is also one of the authors of the tariff bill, which is smashing the hopes of his party every time the people have to chance to hit them.

Going After Payne's Scalp.

The Democratic Congressional Committee announced today that it will make a hard fight in Mr. Payne's district with the expectation of crowning the rebukes to the republicans by retiring the floor leader.

Representative Oscar W. Underwood, the first lieutenant of minority leader Clark was asked tonight if after reflection he had changed his opinion of the portent of the Rochester election.

Protest of the People.

It is not too early to be an augur, he said. This is a counterpoint of the reversals of 1894, when democratic districts began to go republican at special elections and the morning after election day found the democrats with hardly a seat in the house. The people were registering their protest consistently against the party in power, and they are doing the same thing now. I really expect an unusually small republican minority in the house next year.

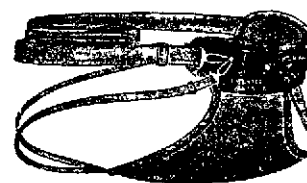

Other democrats said much the same.

Representative James R. Mann of Illinois, one of the chief Cannon lieutenants, said that the election meant nothing more than that the way of the transgressor is hard. He said that the republican nominee, Aldrich was connected with a suspicious money transaction and 14,000 voters of the district stayed at home to rebuke him and the section of the party which he controlled.

Other republicans were not so ingenuous. When Mr. Mann made his remarks Representative Rodenberg of Illinois and Representative Driscoll of New York, standing by said laughingly, "Oh, no Jim whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and we are being chastened."

ISSUES A CHALLENGE TO ALL OTHER CANDIDATES—YOU KNOW

To the Public, the Democratic Can-
L. P. Ross in Particular

I hereby declare myself a candidate for the democratic nomination
for governor of Oklahoma and challenge you Col. Ross, and all other
the stump in 76 counties of the state.
My dear Col. Ross, the reason I direct this challenge to you in particular is because you are making
are asking for resubmission and open
saloons. As yet none of the candidates have had the nerve and backbone to call you to halt. In fact they seem to try to ride both horses.
I am unalterably opposed to resub-
mission and hold that we are honor-
bound to keep good faith with the
whiskey out of the state for 21 years. I am in favor of state-wide national-wide and world-wide prohibition and if elected governor will do all in my power to have our constitution and laws so remedied that
a bootlegger, gambling house proprietor, guntotter, white slave trafficker and the bribe giver and bribe
serve at least two years in the pen.
make the state clean.

Kindly let me know at once if you
will debate this and other issues
and our managers will meet and arrange the itinerary. I am also asking the other candidates to be on hand and protect their interests.

Among other things I will advo-
the democratic platform and secure
good amendments as speedily as possible—taxation for all alike economy
in the expenditure of public funds,
funds to be deposited in home banks
at the best possible interest rate. I favor the state bank guaranty law

BUSHELS OF CORN TO ACRE

In answer to an inquiry as to how
one man raised 226 bushels of corn
to the acre the grower J. F. Batts
of Garner N. C. says

In reply to your request that I
226 2/3 bushels of shelled corn on
one acre I will say in the first
the corn gathered under the rules
and regulations of a contest conducted under the auspices of the North
The official report is therefore on
file and with the affidavits of disinterested witnesses proving the actual measure of 226 2/3 bushels to the acre I can tell the story in a few words. I prepared the land and prepared the seed, and resolved to make
work and close study would produce.
My land was not extraordinary land
acre which this year produced 226 2/3
bushels produced only five bushels.
Last year it produced only eight bushels of wheat. Of course, when I made up my mind to enter for the Wake
county and State of North Carolina
corn prizes for this year I felt that I was handicapped so far as my land
was concerned, and I had to use
a great deal of manure and fertilizer.
But I attributed my success to seed
selected and seed development more
than to any one thing. I had only one year in which to prepare my
land for the contest but fortunately I had been working at seed improvement seven years, and I had
the advantage of an extraordinary
prolific seed. How I brought this
about may interest your readers.

with prolific seed, if I would get the most of my labors. And so I set aside a spot (less than half an acre)
in which year by year I had bred
corn to the prolific type. My aim has been to produce a handy size of ear
and four ears to the stalk, and each ear well filled out. I have produced many stalks having from five to ten ears, but I have kept steadily to my object of producing four good
well shaped and well filled ears to
seed, selecting the best, and while
I would have made a good yield with
years' work on seed improvement
accounts for the very great success
of my yield over that of others in

having produced less than 160 bushels and he had better land. I think
say I think other things being equal my seed added 33 1/3 per cent to the yield if not more.

SIDETRACKS SUIT

Tribunal Advises Attorney General
He May Petition for Order
Against Successor.

Guthrie Ok April 20—For the reason that no practical results could
be obtained the supreme court to-
Examiner and Inspector Taylor for writ of mandamus against State Bank
Commissioner Young to permit him
to examine affairs of the states bank-
state guaranty fund. The suit was filed in the Supreme Court by the Attorney General yesterday.

shown that Commissioner Young had
tendered his resignation effective
May 1 and that he would be out of office before hearing could be had
and the controversy determined.
When Young leaves the office a new
commissioner takes charge, and any
order of the court would not obtain against the new appointee. The court's order states that Taylor will
be permitted to renew his application at such time as it may appear
that the issuance of a writ of man-
damus will not necessarily be abated.
be followed.

The mandamus was the outgrowth
of several demands made by State
Examiner and Inspector Taylor upon Commissioner Young to allow an inspection of such matters as held by
cent bank closings and to check disbursements of the funds. Refusal was made upon the theory that the guar-
in trust.

It is understood that Gov. Haskell
has appointed as Mr. Young's successor E. B. Cockrell, president of the Bank of Hydro and of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Hennessey, and that formal transfer of the office will be made May 1.

That election in New York state
yesterday is enough to inspire a hur-

COL. GEO. THOMPSON CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

references to Col. George Thompson
in connection with his candidacy for sheriff of Pontotoc county.

While the personality of Colonel
Thompson has been strongly impressed on the political and other substantial affairs of the county in a manner and to an extent which
makes references to him in the interest of his candidacy, more or less
in their consideration of the best
man for sheriff it is proper to be
regardful of Colonel Thompson's
work as a private citizen for the public good and as County Demo-
party.

There is reproduced hereunder the write-up by Hon. Byron Norrell in reference to Colonel Thompson's can-

GEORGE THOMPSON
CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF
(From Ada Democrat)

Few men are now before the voters of the Democratic party who are better known than George Thompson.
He has held no office but his work
in favor of strict law enforcement
and in the interest of the democratic
was one of the prime movers in the
quiet little campaign last summer
that resulted in closing up the blind
tigers of the town, and no one worked more zealously to apprehend the
assassin seemed likely to escape.

Three years ago, when it was seen
that the two factions of the demo-
for some time, must, of necessity, get together Mr. Thompson was selected as the man capable of bringing
man succeeded perfectly in wiping
the pleasure of the writer to be as-
years ago on the campaign committee
that directed the fight in this county for the constitution and state-
spared neither himself nor personal
expense to make a success of the
all know. At times when a speaker
could not be found to go to a place
where work was needed Mr. Thompson would go himself and he never
failed to make good.

the conduct of his office if elected
for he served as deputy sheriff in Grayson county Texas where he
in the midst of a new country learned those lessons of self reliance and

Hearings Had at Guthrie on Excess
Exit Rule.

Guthrie Ok April 19—Hearings
were held by the corporation Commission upon its proposed orders re-
voking the excess fare order of one
year ago revising the excess baggage rate and requiring that all ex-
its to passenger trains be kept open when stopping at towns in excess of 3,000 population.

The excess fare order permits the
railroad companies to charge a penalty in excess of the tariff cost of
tickets when payment is made in
Oklahoma was 2c per mile but at the 3c rate it was shown the penalty
would increase the rate to between 4c and 5c per mile.

dence of F. B. Griffin and E. F.
Connelly, Santa Fe passenger conductors running between Newton,
Kan. and Purcell Ok. Prior to the order going into effect cash fare collections on train averaged between $50 and $75 a trip but now even
with the penalty in force it is only
between $5 and $10 showing that passengers had been buying tickets
to save the excess.

Home Care for Eczema.

Does it not seem strange that so many people suffer year in and year
out with eczema?

A 25-cent bottle of a simple wash
stops the itch and will surely convince any patient.

and soothing oil of wintergreen mixed with thymol and glycerine etc.,
and known as D. D. D. Prescription.
We do not know how long the D. D.
D. Laboratories will continue the 25c offer as the remedy is regularly sold
before been put on the market on
any special offers.

bottle at 25c on our personal recommendation,
Ramsey Drug Co.

Guthrie, Ok., April 20—Under the
primary election law candidates for office and to be voted on for a greater area than one county are required to file with the state election
primary election ticket. Secretary Linu of the State Election Board has opened an office and announced that
the first filing date would be Monday, April 25. The law does not provide in what order the names shall
year they were arranged alphabeti-
cally this year it will probably be in
the order they are received by the board.

Gov. Haskell has not appointed a successor to F. E. Gillette republican
member of the State Election Board, resigned and states he will not make
a selection from the lists submitted
by Chairman Harris of the Republican State committee. All on the Harris list in Guthrie.

Bargains For You.

Look down the list and figure out
catch you—

- 1 Home—200 feet front in front of the South school campus. A bargain.

Ada Coca-Cola Bottling Company a Busy Place.

The Ada Coca-Cola Bottling Company, a new industry for this city, begun operation Tuesday and with its splendid modern equipment, will be able to supply this and surrounding territory with soft drinks, such as coca-cola, soda water and ginger ale. The plant has a capacity of 14,000 bottles daily, which will doubtless prove of sufficient size for the present. It is the intention of the company to make nothing but the best in their line, using pure sugar and the best extracts obtainable, together with pure water.

Pending the adjustment of the machinery, which is new and of modern style, no shipments will be made and by the first of the month they will be ready to take care of all the business within a radius of fifty miles of this city.

The public is cordially invited to call and inspect the plant. They will find Mr. W. A. Riley, the manager, a most pleasant gentleman, who will take pleasure in showing them through.

Prominent Adaites

Honorable W. H. Ebey and Judge C. A. Galbraith left this morning for Oklahoma City where they will participate in the "Eighty-niners" celebration. It is especially fitting that these gentlemen should attend and participate in the celebration of the 21st birthday of Old Oklahoma Territory for they were not only among the prominent ones who engaged in the great run, but were among those very few who planted their tents on the lots near the Lee-Huckins hotel which is now nearly the center of the metropolitan business district.

The presence of Judge Galbraith and Mr. Ebey at this Aprilis-Fiesta would be essential to the satisfaction of the spirit of the old timers and eighty-niners that the notable occasion had commanded the presence of its more distinguished representatives.

These two Ada citizens were leaders after the big run, in both territorial democratic party leadership and territory governmental conduct, Judge Galbraith being at the head of the Territorial party organization and attorney general and Mr. Ebey being federal territorial supreme court clerk. Each resigned his federal job after Mr. Bryan's first defeat.

A PLEASANT AFTERNOON WITH MRS. CHENEY HOSTESS

The tea given by the Home Mission society at the home of Mrs. W. K. Cheney Wednesday afternoon was in every way a most enjoyable occasion.

About fifty ladies called during the hours and a pleasant, social chat was engaged in. A nice salad course was served, with tea and coffee. The society appreciated the liberal offering made by the guests.

Mrs. Cheney was a gracious hostess and made every one glad to be entertained in her home.

Petersburg, Ind., April 13, 1910.—Pontotoc County Abstract Co., Ada, Okla. Gentlemen: I received your letter advising me of your new organization and I note the names of those who are stockholders, among whom are a number of my personal warm friends and I have full confidence in their honesty and business ability, for I know them to be progressive, straight-forward business men, who have been in Ada ever since the days of her infancy and have struggled through the uncertain period of her early development and helped to make Ada what she is today, a thriving, prosperous little city.

Up to my first visit to your town five years ago I realized the citizens of Ada were laying the foundation to build a city, for I could foresee that her citizens had linked and waxed themselves together and formed what seemed to be an endless chain of strength, all pulling together for Ada's future greatness, and when I had made my second visit to your town I caught the fever myself and joined the union and have been talking Ada and helping to advertise the fact that Ada is going to develop into one of the biggest little cities for many miles around in the state of Oklahoma. Cities do not grow by chance—while it is true, by virtue of locations they naturally grow, but in the greater majority of cases towns must be blessed as Ada is with a band of hustlers who are constantly offering opportunities to outsiders to come in and grow up with the city and become a part of it, and this is the message your citizens are continually sending out to others.

Another very important feature your citizens have developed for their future welfare which will add largely to the growth of your city is your school system. The educational opportunities now afforded in Ada to the present and coming generation is something to be proud of and ought to be a city-wide source of pride to Ada within itself.

Will probably be in the city some time in the near future when I will be pleased to call. Yours truly, H. R. SNYDER.

COMPLIMENT TO MISS ADDIE TANNER

Ada Young Lady of Sweet 16, One of the Successful Contestants in Popularity Contest.

Miss Addie Tanner of Ada, through the Oklahoma's late popularity subscription contest, secured one of the important prizes, being a trip to Colorado with expenses advanced. Miss Addie richly deserves the reward for she probably remitted around a thousand dollars on subscriptions to the Oklahoma City paper during the period of the contest. The fact that such a very young and modest lady should succeed in accomplishing such results reflects very creditably on her in many respects. Miss Addie is the daughter of Captain A. D. Tanner a prominent citizen of Pontotoc county.

And, Lord, increase and intensify the tendency of the republican leaders to make fools of themselves this year.

Mr. Armour says meat will come down in about three years. That will be after the money of the consumers is all gone, however.

Aunt Carry Nation contemplates a season in Newport next summer. Well, Newport is one place we should like to see Aunt Carry visit.

We admit that we are considering the advisability of reading General Castelman of Kentucky out of the party for giving three gallons of thirty-year-old Kentucky hickory to a republican.

A Connecticut man has invented a fishing pole that weighs the fish which get away. Nobody will buy that kind of pole, as it is altogether more satisfactory to guess, at the weight of escaped fish.

A Texan was fined $10 in New York for hugging two women at the same time and one newspaper has called him a hog. The fine shows that he was not a Texas-hog, the quotations for which are $10.75 to $11.50.

If the president wants to do something to regain popularity he might appoint a democrat to succeed the late Justice Brewer. We know of several good democratic lawyers who would like to have the office.

We really dislike to prophesy, but in order to amaze a certain class of people we positively announce that T. R. is not going to proceed to the White House as soon as he lands and boot Mr. Taft out of the office.

We warn every Texas democrat to be on his mettle this year. It would be indeed humiliating if Massachusetts, Pennsylvania or New York should come to the front in November with a bigger democratic majority than ours.

The opium evil has attacked the magazine specialists now sojourning in China. One of them writes that China is training an army of 22,000,000 men. A few more pipes and that man will be handling figgers like a Kansas populist does.

About the first serious act of colonization Texas will practice on the ultimate consumer this year will be next month when we unload 1500 carloads of onions on him. And we intend to make him weep and squeal at the same time.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer says: "A democratic congress next time is by no means an impossibility." Our contemporary is full of prunes. A democratic congress next time is a copper-riveted, steel-braced, hog-chained, laminated and sublimated cinch.

The man who was arrested in Cleveland because of his connection with an anarchist plot to assassinate Ballinger, was properly incarcerated in the lunatic asylum. This fellow ought to be given a dip net and permitted to fish for minnows in the basin of the fountain all day.

An aged bootlegger was released in Seattle because his army discharge showed that he was one of the men who captured Jefferson Davis at the end of the war. So far, 7000 of the two men who captured Mr. Davis have died, leaving only about 197,689 yet living and on the pension rolls.

VICTORY FOR DEMOCRATS BEING FORECASTED

Chicago, Ill., April 20.—Carter H. Harrison and other democratic party leaders see a democratic sweep in prospect at the fall elections today, following the landslide yesterday in the Rochester (N. Y.) congressional district when the democratic nomination won in a rock-ribbed republican section by a plurality of about 5,000 votes. Roger C. Sullivan, democratic county organization, were of the same mind as Mr. Harrison in analyzing the result.

Tommy Elks Slugs Billy Gragg When Honors Go Against His Man.

Harry Brewer of Kansas City was given the decision over Kid Ferns of Oklahoma City at the close of a fifteen round battle at the Auditorium last night. When Referee Gragg raised Brewer's hand as a sign that he was given the decision, Tommy Elks, Ferns' manager and chief adviser, leaped through the ropes, struck Gragg on the cheek with his right fist and sent him staggering. Gragg's cheek was cut by the blow. The crowd supported Gragg and his decision as Brewer had outgeneraled and out-pointed his opponent through out. Elks was arrested and released on bond. Several other disputes started throughout the packed house, but officers prevented any serious trouble.

An hour before time for the card to begin, people began to come in crowds, and by 8 o'clock a string over a half block extended from the door, besides the multitude that gathered in groups. Four thousand people saw the go.

Brewer was first to enter the ring, being received with loud cheering in his corner was Walter Bates, his manager, and Bates was the only second for the Kansas City lad. A few minutes later Ferns appeared and was given a similar ovation. The crowd was keyed up to a high pitch and as the contestants stripped from their robes and prepared to begin a constant handclapping and shouting was kept up.

HAIR TELLS CHARACTER.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character, far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. Prof. Sabouraud, of Paris, France, inoculated a rabbit with Dandruff germs, causing it to become totally bald in five weeks' time. To rid the scalp of these dangerous germs it is necessary to apply Newbro's Herpicide.

Senator Smith Takes Shot at Wick-ersham.

Washington, April 20.—Senator Smith of South Carolina, referring to the indictment of cotton speculators in New York, said in the senate today that the Attorney General had been made the victim of a plot with the end in view of depressing the price of cotton in the interest of the foreign markets.

Position of Bears.

He said the bears had sold the cotton at a lower price than cotton was bringing in the South. They would have to go to the planters to get the cotton and they would find they could not get it there because the farmers were looking after their own interests.

Contending that every American citizen was interested in the price of cotton because so much of it was exported, Mr. Smith asserted that the Attorney General was not dealing fairly in taking any steps that would play into the hands of those who would depress the price. He objected to cotton, the chief commodity of a section which is politically unfriendly to the administration, being selected for the prosecution.

"Instead of investigating those who are trying to put up prices why in the name of God don't you investigate the foreign bear?" demanded Mr. Smith. He admitted he had assisted in organizing the farmers of the South for their own protection.

Aldrich Defends Tariff.

In a brief discussion with Mr. Smith, Senator Aldrich said he believed the tariff had done more than any other cause to increase prosperity. Mr. Smith sought to construe this into an admission that the tariff was responsible for high prices, but Mr. Aldrich would not admit so much. The question was under discussion for two hours, but was not acted upon.

"H'm!" said Aunt Amelia as she turned with unnecessary fervor the heel of the stocking she was knitting. "The good-looking matronly woman who was watering the Boston fern turned quickly. "Now, Aunt Amelia," she exclaimed, "what have I done that's wrong? You used to make exactly that same disapproving noise when I was ten years old and stole cookies. I was merely telling Rosamund things for her own good. She's a pretty girl if she is my own daughter and I want her to be popular and worthy to be liked!"

"H'm!" said Aunt Amelia again. She poked a knitting needle reflectively through the lace at her wrist. "I don't know," she admitted, "that you said anything wrong. You were advising Rosie to be self-sacrificing and thoughtful of others and to get up early mornings so she could accomplish more. That's exactly what the proper sort of mother is expected to say. Still, if Rosie follows your advice she'll be left at the post, all right."

"Why, Aunt Amelia!" cried the matronly woman, sitting down in surprise at her relative's levity.

"I think I've picked up a bit of slang since the boys down home went to college," Aunt Amelia explained, with an air of pride. "I've kept up with the times since you were married, Anastasia! And you notice lots of things as you grow older."

"I was just thinking," went on Aunt Amelia, "about two girls down at home and wondering why every human man is an exception to the rule. You give any man the sort of girl he ought to like and he backs away and loses his head over the other kind and then expects you to congratulate him on having succeeded in making his whole life miserable."

"There were the Green girls, Emma and Bessie, and when you married and went away they were making mud pies. Well, when they grew up if ever there was a selfish bit of humanity it was Bessie Green. She was not indolent, she was just plain, downright lazy. People didn't think much about her faults, though, because her eyes had a trick of sparkling through her lashes at you and she was always ready for any good time that was going."

"Emma was just as pretty as Bessie, but she was quiet and she didn't look at you through her eyelashes. She had great gray eyes as open and clear as lakes and a fashion of seeing down to the bottom of your mind where you had tucked away the disagreeable part of yourself and thought it hidden. Not that Emma was a prig—she was just an exceptionally lovely, sweet-minded girl."

"Their mother was delicate and Emma used to get up early and see that breakfast was right for father and the boys. Usually Bessie had her breakfast sent upstairs. She said that since Emma was up for breakfast there really was no sense in her getting up, too. Emma knew how to cook and Bessie frankly said she loathed the kitchen and all concerned with it and would rather live on toast and tea than burn her face and hands and get a headache."

"Emma made herself the prettiest sort of dresses and blouses and Bessie got hers ready-made or hired a dressmaker. She said she didn't know how to sew and wasn't ever going to learn. "In short, Emma spent her time doing things for other people because she was naturally so generous and sweet she couldn't help it. She had all the virtues of a model woman besides plenty of good looks, and she was properly modest and retiring. When they went out anywhere there might be an older man or so who would hunt out Emma because they had sufficient brains to appreciate her, but you ought to have seen the young circle about Bessie."

"You ought to see her house! She won't bother her head over it, because she says there are servants to do that. Her husband never got a decent meal at home and nothing in the place is ever put away where it belongs. Her husband sews on his own buttons and carries up her breakfast to her before he leaves in the morning. If she sheds tears about anything he buys her diamonds, and if she sulks he lets her go to Europe. "Emma? She married the bank cashier finally and they are ordinarily happy. You see, like all men who marry good wives, he takes his perfectly run home as a matter of course. Sometimes when he meets Bessie she looks at him through her eyelashes in the old way and his heart thumps."

The good-looking matronly woman stared out of the window. "I'd better send Rosamund to a beauty shop for cultivation and tell her to stop thinking about anybody but herself, if she is to be happy in future—is that what you mean?" she asked with a little sigh.

"I believe you might as well," replied Aunt Amelia, "the world being so perfectly idiotic in these present times."

IT MADE A DIFFERENCE

The young woman in the pretty gown and displaying the becoming style of coiffure surveyed with some perplexity the young man who supposedly called on her because he wanted to gaze into her eyes and listen to her well-modulated voice. He was doing neither, however.

Ever since his arrival he had been burrowing in a heap of back numbers of a magazine popularly deemed attractive only to feminine intellects.

"For goodness' sake, Albert," she broke forth at last, "what on earth causes you to be so fascinated by those magazines? What's the trouble?"

"I was just looking at the pictures," explained the young man, earnestly. "They print such splendid views of houses sometimes. I was hunting them up."

"Houses!" cried the young woman. "I didn't know you were interested in architecture!"

"Oh," said the young man, "I'm not—just as architecture. But I was trying to see if any one had any really clever ideas, you know, as to plans. Sometimes another fellow will come out with exactly the thing you have in mind and can't just figure out yourself."

"But why are you so interested in houses?" demanded the young woman, a little bored.

"Well, you see," said the young man, "I've had a lot for a good long time out in a suburb and I rather thought maybe I'd put up a house on it. You can always—er—rent a house, you know. It seems to me like a good way to invest money. Doesn't it to you?"

"Why, I suppose so," said the young woman, disinterestedly. "I don't know much about those things when you come right down to it—inventions, I mean."

"Well, you'd know about a house, wouldn't you?" asked the young man, anxiously. "Whether it was right—and all that—things a man would never think about. You see, if I put one up I don't want it to be a failure. You could sort of advise me, couldn't you?"

The young woman wrinkled her brow delicately and strove to appear polite. It was difficult because she was a little resentful that he had not noticed the gown she had put on especially for his benefit.

"Couldn't you tell from the plans?" inquired the young man.

"Those things always make my head ache," protested the young woman. "Like railway timetables and propositions in geometry. I can't make any sense out of them! Why don't you buy bonds or stocks or something like that? Then you won't have to bother. Isn't there always an awful lot of trouble about owning houses?"

"Oh, I don't know," said the young man, a trifle gloomily. "I'd rather build a house than buy bonds. I—er—oh, I can make a lot more out of it! This seems to be a nice house—look here!"

"Ye-es," said the young woman after glancing at the plan. "But isn't it awfully small? Only six rooms!"

"That isn't so terribly little!" protested the young man. "There's lots more room in a six-room house than in a six-room flat, for example. Still, I don't like that hall. I like a good-sized hall that looks inviting when you come in—don't you?"

The young man discarded the literature. "There's nothing in them anyhow," he said. "That is, nothing I like any better than my own plan. You see, I've been sort of figuring it out in odd moments and have drawn up one of my own." He drew a carefully folded paper from his pocket and spread it out on the table. "It's like this—can't you take this chair where I can explain it to you?"

The young woman came over to the table with the air of a polite martyr. "Oh, yes," she said after a little scrutiny, "that's very nice, I'm sure. Yes, I'd build it if I were you. I didn't know you had a lot."

"You don't seem interested in my house," said the young man in an injured tone.

"Why, yes, I am," declared the young woman, wandering away to the other side of the room.

"I had kind of hoped you would be," went on the young man slowly, fingering his pencil nervously. "Because—well, you see, Adelaide, I've been hoping for so long now, that some time—when I asked you—you'd say yes—and the little house was to be—yours, you know!"

There was a little rush and the young woman stood beside him. "Why—I didn't know—I didn't understand—give me those plans! Why, it's a perfectly beautiful house!"

Punch.

A novelty for what or social parties where a beverage is served: Strip, wash and bruise with potato masher enough mint to lightly fill a quart bowl. Cover with boiling water and steep, like any tea, for 10 minutes. Strain well and chill on ice. When cold add a cup of grape juice and one of raspberry or strawberry. Canned fruit may be used. Barbary juice is good, but not so easily obtained. Make a syrup of white sugar and water, boiled for 10 minutes, and sweeten with this to suit taste. Do not use raw sugar. If no fruit can be obtained or for any reason is not preferred, use lemon or orange or pineapple juice. Any way the punch looks nicer if a few slices of lemon float around in it. Add also a few sprigs of mint. The flavor is not pronounced and is agreeable.

Frosting the Cake.

For a delicious white frosting for a cake take one cup of granulated sugar, four tablespoons of cold water, and one tablespoon of vinegar. Boil for about five minutes, or until it forms a thread when dropped from a spoon. Have ready the whites of two or three eggs whipped to a stiff froth. Add the sugar syrup to the whites of eggs and beat vigorously until it is light and creamy.

Spread thickly on the cake and set aside to harden. It is not necessary to put in the oven to harden.

A Jelly for Invalids.

Has it ever occurred to you to jelly fruits in the smallest possible glasses for the invalid friend? Glasses may be had which will hold but a quarter of the jelly usually put into the ordinary tumbler size.

While you may not want to carry to your friend just one of these tiny playthings, the variety that you could take in four of the little glasses would be novel and so much more acceptable to the delicate appetite than a quantity of one kind.

Cranberry Sherbet.

Instead of cranberry sauce or jelly try a cranberry sherbet with the roast. A pint of water and a pound of sugar to each pint of juice should be frozen in the usual manner; when partly done stir in the whipped white of one egg for each pint of juice, finish freezing, then add a cup of chopped crystallized fruit softened by previous soaking, repack the freezer and let stand for an hour to ripen.

Honeycomb Pudding.

Beat two eggs, add one-half cup sugar, one-half cup molasses, one-half cup milk in which dissolve one-half teaspoon soda, one-half cup flour. Pour into pudding dish and bake in moderate oven 45 minutes.

Sauce: One cup sugar, one cup boiling water, butter size small egg, salt, one tablespoon flour dissolved in three tablespoons cold water, one-half teaspoon lemon extract.

TAFT IS BLUE

TRICT HAUNT ADMIN-ISTRATION.

DREADS THE NEXT HOUSE

Fall.

Washington, April 20.—Chastened and meek Republican members of congress were the only kind to be seen in Washington today as a result of the disasters that have struck their party, culminating in the victory yesterday of James C. Hays in the Rochester (N. Y.) district. Few of the republicans attempted to deny that all signs point to a democratic house next year, while the intimation from the White House is that the president is so thoroughly disheartened over the criticism, uttered and implied, of his administration that he intimated to friends today that he welcomed the idea of Theodore Roosevelt taking the presidential task off his hands in 1912.

Never Again, Says Taft.

He continues to tell his friends that one term is enough for him, as the people are repudiating his party continually and as the tariff bill seems to be unpopular and troubles are piling up. Several members of congress and some of his unofficial friends said today that he has told them as much. They revived the old story that the ambition of Mr. Taft's life has always been centered on the supreme court of the United States. Since he began to form a purpose, they say, that purpose was to end his career as chief justice of the highest court.

Believes in Roosevelt.

It is said the president welcomes the suggestion that Theodore Roosevelt wants to begin a third term in 1912. So far as Mr. Taft is concerned, the report is, he is convinced that he can not win again, nor does he want to try, while he believes that Mr. Roosevelt will be triumphantly re-elected. He has inquired about the public attitude upon the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill and the replies are so discouraging to him that he is sure he can not please the American public.

Taft Loses Nerve.

The president is a sensitive man and the criticism to which he, like every other president, has been subjected has destroyed his nerve. It has convinced him, say his friends, that he may not be the sort of man to undertake his present position. In recent speeches the president has shaken his head sadly when a second term was mentioned. He has told his hearers that three more years will about do him.

Sighs Over Blunders.

The callers at the White House the president is said always to review the blunders of his administration and the charges against its members. He has said that "everything is breaking against him." They say that he approves of all that secretary of the interior Ballinger has done and that to find Ballinger denounced by the entire public mystifies him.

Wonders at Rude People.

The recent criticism concerning the connection of Attorney General Geo. W. Wickersham and the sugar trust have made the president wonder, say his friends. He does not understand why all his bills do not pass; he can not fathom the good purpose of the progressive movement in his own party, and the President himself has repeatedly said that Speaker Cannon and Senator Aldrich are his ideals of public men. When Aldrich and Hale of Maine made known to the president their determination to retire he stated that the country was losing the services of patriots.

Dreads the Democrats.

To fill his cup of woe the recent democratic victories at special elections have made him certain that he will have a democratic house to wrestle with next year, and his friends assert that he dreads the

is pretty lively work sometimes; but if it's well done, the results are usually good. We've broken a lot of high-spirited fellows to our clothes; and we expect to keep on doing it. The man we especially like to "tackle" is the fellow who thinks we can't persuade him that these fine clothes, made for us by

are better than any he gets made to measure; better for him; economy for him; better style, better quality. We're convincing a lot of just such skeptics right along. The clothes do it; all we have to do is to get them tried on. Men are sometimes a little stubborn about that, but once they get into the clothes, that settles it. They're the best, the most economical the most stylish, and about the only clothes that you know are all wool.

Within the democratic circles the Rochester victory has caused great emotion and hopes for still greater accomplishments. The republican floor leader in the house, representative Sereno E. Payne, speaks for the district next to Rochester. Mr. Payne is also one of the authors of the tariff bill, which is smashing the hopes of his party every time the people have to chance to hit them.

Going After Payne's Scalp.

The Democratic Congressional Committee announced today that it will make a hard fight in Mr. Payne's district with the expectation of crowning the rebukes to the republicans by retiring the floor leader.

Representative Oscar W. Underwood, the first lieutenant of Minority Leader Clark, was asked tonight if after reflection he had changed his opinion of the portent of the Rochester election.

Protest of the People.

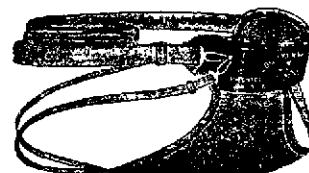

"It is not too early to be an augur," he said. "This is a counterpart of the reversals of 1894, when democratic districts began to go republican at special elections and the morning after election day found the democrats with hardly a seat in the house. The people were registering their protest consistently against the party in power, and they are doing the same thing now. I really expect an unusually small republican minority in the house next year." Other democrats said much the same.

Representative James R. Mann of Illinois, one of the chief Cannon lieutenants, said that the election meant nothing more than that "the way of the transgressor is hard." He said that the republican nominee, Aldrich was connected with a suspicious money transaction and 14,000 voters of the district stayed at home to rebuke him and the section of the party which he controlled.

Other republicans were not so ingenious. When Mr. Mann made his remarks Representative Rodenberg of Illinois and Representative Driscoll of New York, standing by, said laughingly: "Oh, no, Jim whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and we are being chastened."

ISSUES A CHALLENGE TO ALL OTHER CANDIDATES—YOU KNOW

To the Public, the Democratic Can-
L. P. Ross in Particular

I hereby declare myself a candidate for the democratic nomination
for governor of Oklahoma and challenge you Col. Ross, and all other candidates to joint discussions on
the stump in 76 counties of the state.
My dear Col. Ross, the reason I direct this challenge to you in particular is because you are making
are asking for resubmission and open
saloons. As yet none of the candidates have had the nerve and backbone to call you to halt. In fact they seem to try to ride both horses.
I am unalterably opposed to resub-
mission and hold that we are honor-
bound to keep good faith with the
terms of the enabling act and keep
whiskey out of the state for 21 years. I am in favor of state-wide national-wide and world-wide prohibition and if elected governor will do all in my power to have our constitution and laws so remedied that
a bootlegger, gambling house proprietor, guntotter, white slave trafficker and the bribe giver and bribe
taker will, upon conviction, have to serve at least two years in the pen.
Such a law as this I think would
make the state clean.

Kindly let me know at once if you
will debate this and other issues
and our managers will meet and arrange the itinerary. I am also asking the other candidates to be on hand and protect their interests.

Among other things I will advo-
the democratic platform and secure
good amendments as speedily as possible—taxation for all alike economy
in the expenditure of public funds,
funds to be deposited in home banks
at the best possible interest rate. I
favor the state bank guaranty law

TWO HUNDRED AND TWENTY BUSHELS OF CORN TO ACRE

In answer to an inquiry as to how
one man raised 226 bushels of corn
to the acre the grower J. F. Batts
of Garner N. C. says

In reply to your request that I write a letter about how I produced 226 2/3 bushels of shelled corn on
one acre I will say in the first
the corn gathered under the rules
and regulations of a contest conducted under the auspices of the North Carolina department of agriculture.
The official report is therefore on file and with the affidavits of disinterested witnesses proving the actual measure of 226 2/3 bushels to the acre I can tell the story in a few words. I prepared the land and prepared the seed, and resolved to make
as much corn on one acre as hard work and close study would produce.

My land was not extraordinary land
acre which this year produced 226 2/3
bushels produced only five bushels.
Last year it produced only eight bushels of wheat. Of course, when I made up my mind to enter for the Wake
county and State of North Carolina
corn prizes for this year I felt that I was handicapped so far as my land
was concerned, and I had to use
a great deal of manure and fertilizer.
But I attributed my success to seed
selected and seed development more than to any one thing. I had only one year in which to prepare my
land for the contest but fortunately I had been working at seed improvement seven years, and I had
the advantage of an extraordinary
prolific seed. How I brought this about may interest your readers.

Seven years ago I decided that
hard work ought to be supplemented
with prolific seed, if I would get the most of my labors. And so I set aside a spot (less than half an acre)
in which year by year I had bred corn to the prolific type. My aim has been to produce a handy size of ear
and four ears to the stalk, and each ear well filled out. I have produced many stalks having from five to ten ears, but I have kept steadily
to my object of producing four good
well shaped and well filled ears to
seed, selecting the best, and while
I would have made a good yield with
years' work on seed improvement
accounts for the very great success

He May Petition for Order
Against Successor.

Guthrie Ok April 20—For the reason that no practical results could
be obtained the supreme court today denied the application of State Examiner and Inspector Taylor for writ of mandamus against State Bank
Commissioner Young to permit him
to examine affairs of the states banking board and disbursement of the state guaranty fund. The suit was filed in the Supreme Court by the Attorney General yesterday.

In the court's order today it was
shown that Commissioner Young had tendered his resignation effective
May 1 and that he would be out of office before hearing could be had
and the controversy determined.
When Young leaves the office a new
commissioner takes charge, and any
order of the court would not obtain against the new appointee. The court's order states that Taylor will
be permitted to renew his application at such time as it may appear
that the issuance of a writ of man-
damus will not necessarily be abated.
It is understood that procedure will
be followed.

The mandamus was the outgrowth
of several demands made by State
Examiner and Inspector Taylor upon Commissioner Young to allow an inspection of such matters as held by
that office having to do with the recent bank closings and to check disbursements of the funds. Refusal was made upon the theory that the guaranty fund was only held by the state
in trust.

It is understood that Gov. Haskell
has appointed as Mr. Young's successor E. B. Cockrell, president of the Bank of Hydro and of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Hennessey, and that formal transfer of the office will be made May 1.

COL. GEO. THOMPSON CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

references to Col. George Thompson
in connection with his candidacy for sheriff of Pontotoc county.

While the personality of Colonel
Thompson has been strongly impressed on the political and other
substantial affairs of the county in a manner and to an extent which
makes references to him in the interest of his candidacy, more or less superfluous still it is a pleasure to remind the voters of the county that
in their consideration of the best man for sheriff it is proper to be regardful of Colonel Thompson's
work as a private citizen for the public good and as County Demo-
party.

There is reproduced hereunder the write-up by Hon. Byron Norrell in reference to Colonel Thompson's can-

GEORGE THOMPSON CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF (From Ada Democrat)

Few men are now before the voters of the Democratic party who are better known than George Thompson.
He has held no office but his work
in favor of strict law enforcement
and in the interest of the democratic party has won him recognition. He
was one of the prime movers in the quiet little campaign last summer
that resulted in closing up the blind
tigers of the town, and no one worked more zealously to apprehend the
murderer of Gus Bobbitt after the
assassin seemed likely to escape.

Three years ago, when it was seen
that the two factions of the democratic party that had existed here
for some time, must, of necessity, get together Mr. Thompson was selected as the man capable of bringing
about harmony, and as county chairman succeeded perfectly in wiping out all the petty differences. It was the pleasure of the writer to be assigned with Mr. Thompson, three years ago on the campaign committee
that directed the fight in this county for the constitution and statehood. He was a hard worker, and
spared neither himself nor personal
expense to make a success of the undertaking. What the result was we all know. At times when a speaker
could not be found to go to a place
where work was needed Mr. Thompson would go himself and he never
failed to make good.

He will have little to learn about
the conduct of his office if elected
for he served as deputy sheriff in Grayson county Texas where he
grew to manhood and being raised
in the midst of a new country learned those lessons of self reliance and
personal courage needed in a man

Hearings Had at Guthrie on Excess
Exit Rule.

Guthrie Ok April 19—Hearings
were held by the corporation Commission upon its proposed orders re-
voking the excess fare order of one
year ago revising the excess baggage rate and requiring that all ex-
its to passenger trains be kept open when stopping at towns in excess of 3,000 population.

The excess fare order permits the
railroad companies to charge a penalty in excess of the tariff cost of
tickets when payment is made in cash on the train. This order was granted while the passenger fare in Oklahoma was 2c per mile but at the 3c rate it was shown the penalty
would increase the rate to between 4c and 5c per mile.

The railroad companies offered evidence of F. B. Griffin and E. F.
Connelly, Santa Fe passenger conductors running between Newton,
Kan. and Purcell Ok. Prior to the order going into effect cash fare collections on train averaged between $50 and $75 a trip but now even
with the penalty in force it is only
between $5 and $10 showing that passengers had been buying tickets
to save the excess.

State Election Question.

Guthrie, Ok., April 20—Under the
primary election law candidates for office and to be voted on for a greater area than one county are required
to file with the state election
board applications for places on the primary election ticket. Secretary Linn of the State Election Board has opened an office and announced that
the first filing date would be Monday, April 25. The law does not provide in what order the names shall appear on the tickets and while last
year they were arranged alphabeti-
cally this year it will probably be in the order they are received by the board.

Gov. Haskell has not appointed a successor to F. E. Gillette republican
member of the State Election Board, resigned and states he will not make
a selection from the lists submitted
by Chairman Harris of the Republican State committee. All on the Harris list in Guthrie.

Ada Coca-Cola Bottling Company a Busy Place.

The Ada Coca-Cola Bottling Company, a new industry for this city began operation Tuesday and with its splendid modern equipment, will be able to supply this and surrounding territory with soft drinks such as coca cola soda water and ginger ale. The plant has a capacity of 14,000 bottles daily, which will doubtless prove of sufficient size for the present. It is the intention of the company to make nothing but the best in their line, using pure sugar and the best extracts obtainable, together with pure water.

Pending the adjustment of the machinery, which is new and of modern style no shipments will be made and by the first of the month they will be ready to take care of all the business within a radius of fifty miles of this city.

The public is cordially invited to call and inspect the plant. They will find Mr. W. A. Riley the manager a most pleasant gentleman who will take pleasure in showing them through.

Prominent Adaites

Honorable W. H. Ebey and Judge C. A. Galbraith left this morning for Oklahoma City where they will participate in the Eighty-niners celebration. It is especially fitting that these gentlemen should attend and participate in the celebration of the 21st birthday of Old Oklahoma Territory for they were not only among the prominent ones who engaged in the great run but were among those very few who planted their tents on the lots near the Lee-Huckins hotel which is now nearly the center of the metropolis business district.

The presence of Judge Galbraith and Mr. Ebey at this April 15th Fiesta would be essential to the satisfaction of the spirit of the old timers and eighty-niners that the notable occasion had commanded the presence of the more distinguished representatives.

These two Ada citizens were leaders after the big run in both territorial democratic party leadership and territory governmental conduct. Judge Galbraith being at the head of the Territorial party organization and attorney general and Mr. Ebey being federal territorial supreme court clerk. Each resigned his federal job after Mr. Bryan's first defeat.

A PLEASANT AFTERNOON WITH MRS. CHENEY HOSTESS

The tea given by the Home Mission society at the home of Mrs. W. K. Cheney Wednesday afternoon was in every way a most enjoyable occasion.

About fifty ladies called during the hours and a pleasant social chat was engaged in. A nice salad course was served with tea and coffee. The society appreciated the liberal offering made by the guests.

Mrs. Cheney was a gracious hostess and made every one glad to be entertained in her home.

This Optimistic Yankee Believes in Ada—Do You!

Petersburg, Ind., April 13 1910—Pontotoc County Abstract Co. Ada Okla. Gentlemen: I received your letter advising me of your new organization and I note the names of those who are stockholders among whom are a number of my personal warm friends and I have full confidence in their honesty and business ability, for I know them to be progressive straight-forward business men who have been in Ada ever since the days of her infancy and have struggled through the uncertain period of her early development and helped to make Ada what she is today a thriving prosperous little city.

Up to my first visit to your town five years ago I realized the citizens of Ada were laying the foundation to build a city for I could foresee that her citizens had linked and waxed themselves together and formed what seemed to be an endless chain of strength all pulling together for Ada's future greatness and when I had made my second visit to your town I caught the fever myself and joined the union and have been talking Ada and helping to advertise the fact that Ada is going to develop into one of the biggest little cities for many miles around in the state of Oklahoma. Cities do not grow by chance—while it is true by virtue of locations they naturally grow but in the greater majority of cases towns must be blessed as Ada is with a band of hustlers who are constantly offering opportunities to outsiders to come in and grow up with the city and become a part of it and this is the message your citizens are continually sending out to others.

Another very important feature your citizens have developed for their future welfare which will add largely to the growth of your city is your school system. The educational opportunities now afforded in Ada to the present and coming generation is something to be proud of and ought to be a city wide boast of Ada within itself.

Will probably be in the city some time in the near future when I will be pleased to call yours truly! H. R. SNYDER

Ada Young Lady of Sweet 16, One of the Successful Contestants in Popularity Contest.

Miss Addie Tanner of Ada through the Oklahoma's late popularity subscription contest secured one of the important prizes being a trip to Colorado with expenses advanced. Miss Addie richly deserves the reward for she probably remitted around a thousand dollars on subscriptions to the Oklahoma City paper during the period of the contest. The fact that such a very young and modest lady should succeed in accomplishing such results reflects very creditably on her in many respects. Miss Addie is the daughter of Captain A. D. Tanner a prominent citizen of Pontotoc county.

And Lord, increase and intensify the tendency of the republican leaders to make fools of themselves this year.

Mr. Armour says meat will come down in about three years. That will be after the money of the consumers is all gone however.

Aunt Carry Nation contemplates a season in Newport next summer. Well Newport is one place we should like to see Aunt Carry visit.

We admit that we are considering the advisability of reading General Castelman of Kentucky out of the party for giving three gallons of thirty-year-old Kentucky Hicker to a republican.

A Texan was fined $10 in New York for hugging two women at the same time and one newspaper has called him a hog. The fine shows that he was not a Texas hog the quotations for which are $10.75 to $11.50.

If the president wants to do something to regain popularity he might appoint a democrat to succeed the late Justice Brewer. We know of several good democratic lawyers who would like to have the office.

We really dislike to prophesy but in order to amaze a certain class of people we positively announce that T. R. is not going to proceed to the White House as soon as he lands and boot Vi Taft out of the office.

We warn every Texas democrat to be on his mettle this year. It would be indeed humiliating if Massachusetts, Pennsylvania or New York should come to the front in November with a bigger democratic majority than ours.

The opium evil has attacked the magazine specialists now sojourning in China. One of them writes that China is training an army of 22,000,000 men. A few more pipes and that man will be handling figgers like a Kansas populist does.

About the first serious act of coin separation Texas will practice on the ultimate consumer this year will be next month when we unload 1500 carloads of onions on him and we intend to make him weep and squeal at the same time.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer says a democratic congress next time is by no means an impossibility. Our contemporary is full of prunes. A democratic congress next time is a copper-riveted steel-braced hog-chained, laminated and sublimated cinch.

The man who was arrested in Cleveland because of his connection with an anarchist plot to assassinate Ballinger, was properly incarcerated in the lunatic asylum. This fellow ought to be given a dip net and permitted to fish for minnows in the basin of the fountain all day.

An aged bootlegger was released in Seattle because his army discharge showed that he was one of the men who captured Jefferson Davis at the end of the war. So far, 7000 of the two men who captured Mr. Davis have died, leaving only about 197,669 yet living and on the pension rolls.

VICTORY FOR DEMOCRATS BEING FORECASTED

Chicago Ill. April 20—Carter H. Harrison and other democratic party leaders see a democratic sweep in prospect at the fall elections today, following the landslide yesterday in the Rochester (N. Y.) congressional district when the democratic nomination won in a rock-ribbed republican section by a plurality of about 5,000 votes. Roger C. Sullivan, democratic county organization, were of the same mind as Mr. Harrison in analyzing the result.
